Program Description

This program offer funds housing placement and retention programs focused on helping adults and families with minor children exit shelter into housing. Strategies emphasize reducing racial disparities.

For many people experiencing homelessness, returning to permanent housing requires a combination of limited duration flexible rent assistance, case management focused on housing placement and retention, and access to income acquisition assistance. This housing placement and retention strategy, often referred to as "rapid rehousing (RRH)", is a recognized best practice and critical element of the housing placement strategies.

Prioritizing rapid rehousing resources to people in emergency shelters serves two critical purposes. First, it provides individuals and families in shelter the opportunity to end their homelessness by returning to permanent housing with the support needed to retain that housing. Second, each individual who moves out of a shelter unit and into permanent housing creates capacity in the shelter system to serve an additional individual or family who is still unsheltered.

Services funded through this program are delivered by highly skilled nonprofit partners. Services prioritize Communities of Color, women, families with minor children and other vulnerable adults experiencing homelessness accessing traditional and non-traditional shelter sites. The services include flexible rent assistance, staffing accessed through emergency shelters, day centers, and multi-agency mobile inreach teams that engage with people in shelters that do not have their own housing placement programs. The inreach teams include staff from culturally-specific, domestic violence and behavioral health providers to assist adults.
