Executive Summary

Almost 4,000 individuals were admitted to the Department of Community Justice (DCJ) during FY 2013. The Assessment and Referral Center (ARC) combines in-custody interviews, intakes (post prison and probation) and specialized services for those released from state and local custody. Enhanced services will reduce duplication of efforts and increase the amount of screenings, referrals, and re-entry services available when an individual is first placed on supervision.

Program Summary

DCJ's strategic plan includes additional and enhanced initial assessments, referrals and re-entry services for individuals sentenced to probation or post-prison supervision. These "up-front" coordinated and immediate services should increase motivation of clients to change and be a contributing factor to reduced criminal activity. For the last six months of FY 2013, a group of DCJ and Information Technology staff have used the equity lens to begin the redesign of processes that support this goal.

The individuals being supervised by DCJ use a standardized tool for assisting staff with predicting the risk of clients reoffending. The ARC staff will perform improved and additional assessments for individuals considered high risk to reoffend to determine which strategies and services are most appropriate to reduce risk. Our hypothesis is that the increase of initial assessments, referrals and re-entry services will reduce re-offending. In addition to paid staff, these services will be increased through the assistance of graduate students.

ARC staff meets with the majority of offenders prior to their release from prison (reach-in visits). This practice reduces the abscond rate for post-prison releases in Multnomah County. Potential risks and strengths are identified during reach-in sessions, allowing for the development of appropriate supervision plans and preparation for potential roadblocks that could impede an offender's successful transition. In addition to state custody, this practice includes some offenders in local jails.

Short- and long-term housing/shelter is provided to 262 high risk and disabled offenders a day using several community contracted agencies. Providing housing to offenders is cost-effective. It costs approximately $37.37 per day to house an offender in transitional housing, as compared to $80.00 to $170.00 per day to keep an offender incarcerated. In addition to housing, ARC staff will facilitate access to a variety of physical and behavioral health services.

Significant Program Changes

Last Year this program was: 50035 Assessment and Referral Center and 50036B Adult Re-entry Resource Center

This program offer reflects a net increase of 0.50 FTE. In FY 2014 a decrease of 1.50 FTE is due to transfers to/from other DCJ programs. In FY 2015 1.00 FTE Probation/Parole Officer and 1.00 FTE Records Technician are added. This offer includes an increased investment in housing as part of recovery support services and reflects State revenue reductions - CJC Byrne grant (REC) ended 9/30/13 and was replaced with 3194 funding ending 6/30/14, resulting in a loss of $105k in state funding.
