Executive Summary

Outpatient treatment is an essential part of the alcohol and drug treatment continuum. In addition, alcohol/drug treatment addresses a major criminal risk factor and is a necessary correctional intervention if DCJ is to continue to be successful in reducing recidivism. The offenders referred to these programs are classified at a high risk to re-offend and are statistically more likely to commit a new crime if interventions are not provided. At any time, 230 offenders will attend communitybased outpatient treatment programs one to three times a week as appropriate to their needs.

Program Summary

Services are provided through contracts with nine non-profit providers who are dually licensed to provide alcohol and drug treatment and mental health services. Contracted treatment programs are equipped to respond to culturally-specific needs, to provide mental health treatment, and to address criminal risk factors in addition to addiction to drugs or alcohol.

With the expansion of Medicaid and private forms of insurance, some clinical services previously supported by the DCJ budget will now be reimbursed through health insurance. DCJ will continue to provide funding for clinical services for those offenders eligible for treatment who do not have insurance. In addition, funding is provided to support treatment interventions for criminal risk factors such as antisocial thoughts and attitudes, antisocial peers, impulsivity and poor problem solving skills, anger management and so on. Effective interventions for offenders should integrate addictions treatment with treatment for criminality.

This program offer supports a recovery system of care which includes comprehensive support for recovery in addition to counseling, such as stable and drug free housing, peer mentors, and vocational assistance. A recovery system of care better supports long-term behavior change than does counseling alone.

Without treatment, offenders are more likely to re-offend and/or to occupy expensive jail beds. Treatment has been proven to be effective at reducing recidivism both in Oregon and nationally. DCJ's pilot program for a recovery system of care which includes treatment, housing, mentors, and vocational assistance was studied by the Criminal Justice Commission. This program reduced re-arrest by 43% over a matched but untreated control group. In addition, 74% of participants were employed within 90 days and 84% had independent housing at 90 days. For every dollar spent on this program, $6.73 in tax payer and crime victim costs were avoided.
