A MESSAGE FROM THE PURCHASING MANAGER

During the past year, Multnomah County Purchasing focused on improvements to our core services and began several strategic initiatives which will result in more responsive and efficient services.

Central to Purchasing's core function is to provide excellent procurement and contracting support services to our internal county clients. We conducted 85 formal (>$150,000) procurements this year, which is more than any other previous year. Several of these are highlighted in this report. Purchasing staff assisted employees in the purchase of almost $500M in goods and services and reviewed 850 resultant contracts and amendments. We earnestly began development of a program to manage County Surplus with the goal of implementing a sustainable and resource preserving program that will add value to the County as a whole.

We continue to stand out nationally as one of the leading public purchasing organizations. We received recognition for two initiatives by The National Association of Counties. The first was for developing a new procurement tool that is both flexible and elegant which solved a critical business need for getting and maintaining a good pool of vendors to provide certain services. The second recognized the leadership the County has exercised in our community to bring other agencies together in an effort to make it easier for MWESB firms to do business with us. Many exciting initiatives were born of these gatherings, including the first specific inclusion of MWESB objectives into the Oregon Business Plan, the state's central plan to increase and maintain high-wage jobs that support families and maintain strong communities.

Among County functions, Purchasing is at the forefront of the demographic shifts occurring in our community and within the workforce. In 2013, 53% of staff across the County in procurement and contracting positions were 55 years or older. Even as we experienced the loss of some of our most senior members this year, our recruitment and commitment to staff development has enabled us to create one of the most outstanding government purchasing teams anywhere. It is my pleasure and honor to work with skilled, dedicated and committed staff. I am proud of their efforts. Purchasing is an organization that is committed to continuous innovation in our policies, procedures, MWESB and sustainability efforts. Because of our results, Multnomah County has developed a reputation as an outstanding leader in public sector purchasing. This is a credit to the professional staff who have risen to the challenges put before them.

We continue to seek solutions by proactively examining what we do, how we do it and why we do it. In the coming year, we look forward to implementing new initiatives in the areas of reporting, contracting, training, and surplus. We will continue to support and leverage our talent, while seeking innovations that deliver the best value for Multnomah County.

Sincerely,

MWESB AND SOCIAL EQUITY

WITH SMALL BUSINESSES ACCOUNTING FOR 95% OF ALL BUSINESSES WITHIN THE COUNTY, THEY ARE VITAL TO OUR ECONOMIC AND COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT EFFORTS.

At Multnomah County, social equity is deeply imbedded into our policies, contracting efforts, sponsorships, and regional partnerships. With small businesses accounting for 95% of all businesses within the County, they are vital to our economic and community development efforts. Through a number of existing programs, Multnomah County directs financial support to sponsor business and workforce development training for MWESBs and their employees as well as for individuals seeking to enter the construction industry. These efforts are making a positive contribution towards the success and growth of a diverse vendor pool and workforce.

ECONOMIC & COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

Each of the following organizations, and the programs they operate, are focused on helping small businesses and providing a foundation for individuals to build skills and obtain meaningful employment in the construction trades. By providing financial support, staff participation and hands-on business and workforce training opportunities, Multnomah County is contributing to the vitality of the local economy and community.

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON MINORITY BUSINESS EXECUTIVE PROGRAM

University of Washington's Michael G. Foster School of Business provides training to minority business professionals in a variety of areas, including: finance and accounting, human resource management, leadership, marketing and brand strategy, relationship marketing and strategic thinking. This program provides training to approximately two dozen minority-owned businesses each year. Multnomah County sponsored one of those individuals this past fiscal year.

Multnomah County sponsored Rajiv Ali, PhD, PE, GE, owner of Rhino One LLC, for the 2014 MBEP program at the Foster School of Business. This innovative program has proved to be of strategic importance for Rhino One, a minority owned business in preparation for current and future entrepreneurial challenges. The program combined business nuts-and-bolts like accounting and financing with the strategic training in marketing and leadership. The sessions were led by experts from the UW faculty, speakers from major multinational companies and alumni of the program. The 2014 class has 29 participants from all over the country representing minority- and woman- owned businesses. Rhino One LLC was formed in October of 2009 with one employee and has since grown to 3 full time and 2 part time employees. Rhino One is currently providing geotechnical engineering services for the $300 million Sellwood Bridge Project with Multnomah County and also is part of an on-call team for geotechnical engineering services. The UW MBEP program has proved extremely valuable to Rhino One and this program is recommended for other up- and coming- minority- and woman- owned firms.

OREGON TRADESWOMEN, INC.

Oregon Tradeswomen, Inc. (OTI) provides training opportunities for low-income girls and women by holding the Building Girls Summer Camp and the Trades and Apprenticeship Career Class for Women. Multnomah County helped sponsor the January and March Trades and Apprenticeship Career Classes this past Fiscal Year. A total of, 88 low-income women benefited from the training for careers in the building, construction, mechanical and utility trades. Many graduates of OTI's training programs go on to enroll in apprenticeship programs and to become Journey level trades people.

CONSTRUCTING HOPE

Constructing Hope is a nonprofit pre-apprenticeship training program committed to rebuilding lives through training and career placement in the construction industry. The program is focused on providing training for low income individuals. In 2014 Constructing Hope graduated 66 individuals, with 26 of those gaining entry into apprenticeship programs shortly after graduation. These low-income women and men received hands-on training in: resume writing, interviewing techniques, financial management, blueprint reading, construction math and sustainable building techniques.

TURNER SCHOOL OF CONSTRUCTION

This training program is offered to Minority, Women and Emerging Small Business owners in the construction industry on an annual basis. Over a ten week period, participants learn about: effective business plans, banking and financial management, marketing strategies, scheduling and estimating, purchasing, daily operations, safety, billing, risk management, and measuring performance. In FY 2013 2014 Turner School of Construction graduated 37 MWESBs representing a mix of owners and employees of MWESBs. In addition to providing financial support, Multnomah County and other participating public agencies teach one of the seminars, which focuses on doing business with public agencies.

OAME YOUTH SUMMIT

For the past 15 years OAME has hosted a Youth Conference as part of their Youth Entrepreneurship Program with more than 650 high school students participating. The Youth Conference aims to engage young people in business practices through a variety of speakers, activities, videos and presentations. During the Conference, participants work in teams to produce a business plan for a hypothetical business that is both profitable and sustainable. OAME, through their Youth Entrepreneurship Program and Youth Conference, strive to improve the entrepreneurial skills of tomorrow's leaders by sparking an interest in business at a young age. This past year, 55 young individuals took advantage of the Youth Conference training opportunity, and Multnomah County's Supplier Diversity Officer, Lee Fleming, represented the County as a speaker for the event.

OUTREACH

Throughout the year, Multnomah County staff attended more than 90 community meetings and events to market construction contracting and personal services opportunities to the small business community. Attending community outreach events supports and strengthens our partnerships with diverse organizations and communities. Some of the more than 90 plus organizational meetings and events County staff attend throughout the year to market opportunities include:

- Oregon Association of Minority Entrepreneurs meetings and annual tradeshow
- National Association of Minority Contractors of Oregon monthly meetings
- Hispanic Metropolitan Chamber of Commerce monthly meetings and annual tradeshow
- Governor's Marketplace Tradeshow
- Oregon Public Purchasing Association Reverse Vendor tradeshow
- Asian Pacific American Chamber of Commerce meetings and events
- Philippine American Chamber of Commerce monthly meetings
- African American Chamber of Commerce meetings

WORKFORCE TRAINING & HIRING PROGRAM

The County requires workforce training on its large construction to ensure the projects offer equal employment opportunity in the construction trades. Prime contractors with contracts of $200,000 and greater and subcontractors with contracts of $100,000 and greater are required to make sure 20 percent of their workforce hours, per trade, are worked by State-registered apprentices. Contractors are also required to make efforts to ensure their workforce is reflective of the diversity of Multnomah County.

By requiring apprenticeship participation on formal construction projects, Multnomah County is helping to set the standard within the industry. By requiring 20 percent participation, per contractor, per trade, the County is seeing a positive effect on apprenticeship demand and is helping create opportunities for tomorrow's workforce.

Apprenticeships typically last between two to five years and involve both a classroom training portion and an on the job training portion. Apprentices typically begin their apprenticeship earning 50 percent of a journey workers rate of pay. As they work through their apprenticeship their wages typically increase 5 percent every six months until they reach the journey worker status.

Over the past fiscal year the majority of training was provided on the Sellwood Bridge Project, highlighted in the Sellwood Bridge section of this report. Seven additional medium to large sized projects met the program requirements and presented meaningful training opportunities for apprentices. These projects include: (1) the Multnomah County Health Clinic HVAC Upgrade Project; (2) the Gresham Library; (3) the Centennial High School Health Clinic Project; (4) the Multnomah Building Elevator Upgrade Project; (5) the Central Library Painting Project; (6) the Midland Library Project and; (7) the Bridge Shop Addition Project.

A combined 33 percent apprenticeship participation was achieved on these seven projects, equaling 2,335 hours of training. Seventeen percent of the total workforce hours (7,026) were worked by minority male workers. Seven percent of the total workforce hours on these seven projects were worked by women.

Ethnic and gender diversity will continue to be central components to the County's workforce training efforts. Through County staff attendance at pre-bid and pre-construction meetings the Workforce Training and Hiring Program requirements and objectives are conveyed to the contractor community. Particular emphasis is placed on the program's diversity component – the requirement for contractors to make reasonable efforts to ensure their workforce reflects the diversity (ethnic and gender) of Multnomah County.

FEATURED MWESB PARTNERS

NORTHWEST GEOTECHNICAL CONSULTANTS

Recently NGI was excited to be awarded an on-call contract to provide geotechnical engineering services to the County. NGI is looking forward to supporting the design and construction of county facilities.

"It is refreshing to partner with an agency that values diversity in contracting in both routine and high profile projects. We were pleased to be called upon almost immediately to support a County transportation project."

SUSTAINABLE PURCHASING

AN EXCERPT FROM THE SUSTAINABLE PURCHASING AND SOCIAL EQUITY POLICY

Benefit the community by contributing to environmental and social objectives:

- REDUCE greenhouse gas emissions and air contaminants;
- IMPROVE energy and water efficiency;
- REDUCE the use of hazardous chemicals and substances;
- REDUCE waste and supporting reuse and recycling;
- REDUCE the environmental impacts associated with food production, consumption and disposal;
- PROTECT and encourage the local food and sustainable agriculture sectors, which are central to our region's economy;
- PROMOTE contracting opportunities for State certified MWESB firms; and
- PROMOTE employee health care.

Multnomah County's Sustainable Purchasing and Social Equity Policy provides guidance into the way we do business; including the goods and services we buy. The Sustainable Purchasing Program, housed in Central Purchasing, coordinates with Strategic Sourcing and County departments to share the tools and resources that guide the County's sustainable purchasing decisions.

The policy furnishes staff with a critical framework which assists in buying decisions while integrating social and environmental considerations into purchases of services and goods and services. Multnomah County seeks to conduct business with vendors who demonstrate responsible businesses practices through sustainability and social equity innovations. Through a collaborative process with departments, Purchasing continues to make significant improvements to existing tools, resource materials and website updates guiding this effort.

In FY 2014 we continued to expand our network of Going Green Together by joining the Regional Public Sector Sustainability Coordinators Community of Practice. This partnership has allowed Multnomah County to start sharing our knowledge and experience with other public agencies seeking to adopt sustainability and social equity innovations into their purchasing policies and business practices. We are sharing promising practices in how we create a space that and empowers all who participate in procurement at all levels of the organization and community to meaningfully engage in sustainable and socially equitable decision making and resource allocation process.

We are continuing to build and implement a process that allows cross-sector solutions that will be sustainable and allow for improved conditions and resources for existing and future populations.

SURPLUS PROPERTY PROGRAM

IN FY2014, MULTNOMAH COUNTY PURCHASING, IN PARTNERSHIP WITH THE COUNTY OFFICE OF SUSTAINABILITY AND DIVERSITY SOLD SURPLUS PROPERTY WORTH $16,078.99

During FY2014 Multnomah County Purchasing, in partnership with the County Office of Sustainability and Diversity, began planning for a regional surplus property solution. With a record of success in FY 2014 selling $16,078.99 worth in assets, the County recognized we were not the only jurisdiction needing to address surplus property concerns.

Purchasing, the Strategic Sourcing Council, and the Office of Sustainability joined forces to bring together staff from other local and state agencies to share their concerns, to foster collaboration and explore the possibility of developing a regional, sustainable solution to manage surplus property. This effort also looked at possible alliances with local non-profits that might have greater local economic impact through the development of local employment opportunities. Thus the Regional Surplus Property Working Group (RSPWG) was formed to meet this challenge.

Based upon the County's Values of Public Safety, Health, Integrity, Stewardship, Creativity & Innovation, Sustainability and Social Justice, the RSPWG identified that surplus property:

- Is not being reallocated internally by agencies and with other jurisdictions and non-profit agencies;
- Requires a process and system to share and manage surplus property inventories;
- Requires metrics for reporting purposes;
- Recycling efforts could be improved with multiple vendors including Qualified Rehabilitation Facilities;

Looking toward FY2015, Multnomah County has initiated a Pilot Project for Surplus Property management. The Surplus Property Pilot Project is set-up in three tiers: Multnomah County employees, non-profit agencies, and other governments.

This pilot is in development, but the initial program focus is to:

- Acquire information for a regional solution;
- Identify and reduce risks involved with a regional roll-out;
- Gain acceptance by all staff;
- Develop and incorporate end-of-lifecycle and total lifecycle property management considerations in purchasing processes.

After three years of construction, significant progress has been made towards completion of the new Sellwood Bridge. Similarly, the project team and the dozens of subcontractors working on the project have realized significant progress towards meeting the project workforce training and diversity goals and the project's DMWESB subcontractor participation goals. By project completion the general contractor, Slayden-Sundt Joint Venture, and their subcontractors are tasked with achieving a workforce apprenticeship participation goal of 20% and workforce diversity goals of 14% female and 20% minority workforce participation.

Through the end of the fiscal year, those contractors responsible for meeting apprenticeship training targets had achieved 41,825 hours of apprenticeship training, equaling 21% of the contractors' total combined workforce hours on the project. A total of 183 different apprentices had worked on the project through the end of this reporting period. In addition, 94,245 hours (28%) had been worked by minority journey and apprentice level trades people combined. The project team has also made significant progress towards the female workforce participation goal with 46,908 hours (14%) having been worked by journey and apprentice level trades women.

Dec. 19, 2014

Progress towards the project DMWESB contractor participation goal has been trending up, but current participation is short of the 20% target. As of the end of June, 2014, $32,139,348 had been subcontracted to DMWESB businesses (15%). A total of 192 different subcontracts had been issued with 105 of those having gone to DMWESB businesses. The dollar distribution by certification type shows $13,410,367 being awarded to DBE certified subcontractors; $9,783,040 to MBE certified subcontractors, $6,463,900 to WBE certified subcontractors and $2,482,041 to ESB certified subcontractors.

PURCHASING ACHIEVEMENTS

KEY PROCUREMENTS

MEDICAL AND PHARMACY CLAIMS PERFORMANCE AUDIT SERVICES

After 15 years of relying on the independent audits from one vendor, the Department of County Management, Benefits Division determined to competitively seek out Proposers from whom it could purchase independent Medical and Pharmacy Claims Performance Audit Services.

For approximately fifteen years, medical and dental claims administration for our self-insured plans has been provided by Moda Health. As of July, 2012, Moda Health also provided claims administration for our self-insured pharmacy benefits, leading some to suggest it was time for independent audits in light of the large dollar amounts involved. The annualized medical and prescription claims expenditures for the self-insured plans are approximately $16,000,000. The Multnomah County Employee Benefits Program provides six comprehensive medical/prescription/vision plan options and two dental plan options for over 10,000 eligible individuals, including employees/retirees, their spouse or domestic partner and dependent children. All six plan options include a prescription component.

Although not required by rule or statute, these independent verification audits should reveal how the County might recover benefit payments, obtain significant cost savings and implement service Improvements benefiting both County employees and family members as well as preserving County funding.

Multnomah County provides medical and drug coverage through a self-insured program administered by two separate third party administrators. Auditing Services provided in response to this solicitation feature an initial audit consisting of the following major components:

- Random Sampling of 250 Moda Health Medical and Vision Claims and 250 Pharmacy Claims
- Random Sampling of Med Impact Pharmacy Claims
- Review of Claims Quality Accuracy
- Analysis of Contractor Performance against Contract Performance Guarantees
- Analysis of Provider Payment Inaccuracies
- Recommendations Regarding Recovery Potentials
- Improvement and Implementation Strategies Indicated from Findings
- Request Backend Reports for system errors identified.

With each audit, Benefits is seeking a detailed critical analysis of the activity of the current third party administrators, checking in detail that the work has been done in accordance with accepted practices and there is sufficient justification for final claims adjudication and payment amounts. The first audit will be done in late 2014 with additional audits scheduled in the out years.

LAND USE PLAN COMPREHENSIVE UPDATE

A Fast Moving Project Highlighting a Partnership of Cooperation and Coordination

Although small in size, the Department of Community Services Land Use and Transportation Planning Division (LUTPD) makes perhaps one of the most critical contributions to the intelligent, controlled growth of Multnomah County and the region. During 2013, the LUTPD took stock of their entire planning system – the current Transportation System Plans (TSPs) were outdated. The TSPs did not adequately address the needs and conditions of bicycle, pedestrian and transit traffic. Nor did they adequately capture the current conditions of state highways and freight routes to plan for future use and needs of such critical facilities. There have been significant changes to the transportation system in Multnomah County since these TSPs were last updated and maintaining the individual Rural Area Plans and TSPs had proven inefficient over time. The result has been repetitive regulations which were more difficult for citizens to understand and more time consuming for staff to implement and maintain.

Additionally, State law required each county to adopt a Comprehensive Plan consistent with statewide planning goals and implementing statutes. Multnomah County's current Comprehensive Plan Policy 1(F) has not had a high level re-evaluation of the goals, policies, strategies and structure since its original adoption in the 1970s. Equally important, the Program's focus had evolved from urban to rural planning over the last 40 years. Many of the urban focused plan policies had not been removed, sending a confused message about the services Multnomah County currently provides.

When funding fell into place in early 2014, LUTPD undertook the ambitious revision of the entire planning system.

First, they partnered with Purchasing and embarked on a procurement development process. Ten days after first contact, a comprehensive, competitive solicitation was published, which closed three weeks later with five proposals received. Written evaluations were completed in a week. Oral evaluations of the three most promising offers were completed a week later, with Award notification being issued once oral evaluations were completed. A typical three month formal competitive solicitation process was successfully condensed into 42 days as a result of the superbly managed coordination between the program, led by Adam Barber, and Purchasing.

The resulting contract included updating regulations to align with amended policies and procedures. It also included combining individual chapters of community development codes to simplify the land use process. This two year project will re-incorporate policies and strategies embodied in each of the Rural Area Plans and associated Transportation System Plans back into one combined Comprehensive Framework Plan document reinforcing the fact that Multnomah County serves the entire community equitably, while recognizing the unique natural and cultural settings of the communities we serve.

PSYCHOLOGICAL & PSYCHIATRIC SERVICES FOR OFFENDERS

Looking at the Retention of Professionals in a New Way

The mission of the Department of Community Justice (DCJ) is to enhance community safety and reduce criminal activity by holding youth and adults accountable in a fair and just manner, assisting them to develop skills necessary for success, and effectively using public resources. DCJ is responsible for providing a balance of supervision, sanctions and services to about 9,000 adult and juvenile offenders residing in Multnomah County. DCJ has been at the forefront of developing programs and services to strengthen and improve community safety as well as working to reduce recidivism and re-offense rates through the various programs and services provided to both adult offenders and youth.

Psychological evaluations and treatment services play an essential role in determining what services are needed by both adult offenders and youths to reduce delinquent and criminal behavior. Community safety is protected by evaluating and treating offenders. In addition, psychological evaluations and treatment services support the department's key strategies of client accountability, resource management and system change. The four main services include psychological evaluations for Adult Offenders for pre-sentence investigation reports, evaluations and diagnostic counseling and treatment for Juvenile or Adult Offenders, psychiatric case consultation and treatment Services for Juvenile Offenders with medical direction services, and consultation, program support, and training for DCJ's Juvenile Services Division clinical teams.

In the past, we had required Proposers to submit detailed responses, often up to 30 pages in length, providing their specific qualifications and experience. The Proposals, often five to seven in number, then had to be carefully read by evaluators and scored in written evaluation panels. This time around, both the Program and Purchasing determined that much of the old evaluation process did little to differentiate the Proposers and mostly provided information that had already be provided to the State and other certification boards and entities. Since Psychiatrists and Psychologists were already certified by the State, which included mandatory training, educational achievement and experience with specific populations, the Program and Purchasing scrapped the old process and created instead an application process that was much simpler to score. The new process would provide immediate feedback to the Proposer based on what they self-scored instead of having to wait weeks to get their final results. Points were awarded in the application based on years of experience, public sector and criminal justice system experience and sustainability. Rather than having subjective criteria, the applicant merely had to check boxes worth a set amount of points.

As a result of using the new application process, Providers found it much easier to complete it, we had fewer entry errors and found it much easier to review and confirm scoring – completing the process in one-seventh the time usually required for evaluations. The Program obtained quality candidates for significantly less evaluation time commitment. We've adopted this process as a Purchasing best practice and will use this practice where appropriate to minimize the Proposer and Program time commitments.

SECURED TRANSPORT

A Joint Mental Health Solicitation with Marion County

MULTNOMAH COUNTY, AS THE LARGER USER OF
THESE UNIQUE SERVICES,
TOOK THE LEAD.

In recent years, both Marion and Multnomah County have made a conscious effort to begin sharing information, requirements and consulting with each other over a variety of common issues, from contracts and procurements to provision of social services. In many ways, Marion County is more similar to Multnomah County than some neighboring counties, who have significantly different populations and service requirements.

One outgrowth of this sharing was the decision by both Counties to consider joint solicitation efforts where it made sense to reduce solicitation costs and to begin more uniformly providing common services, a benefit to both providers and the service organizations.

In the spring, both Multnomah County and Marion County Mental Health

Authorities had a mutual requirement for the provision of secured medical transportation services for clients who suffer from mental illness and need to be transferred between facilities. Clients could be juveniles or adults. Transporters are extensively trained in dealing with the clients and their issues and may occasionally employ restraints, as necessary. Both Counties had previously been contracting for these services under exemptions, using one vendor each, which increasingly did not meet all of their requirements.

Multnomah County, as the larger user of these unique services, took the lead and worked closely with Marion County to develop a joint solicitation that met both Counties' needs. Proposers were invited to offer a proposal to serve either Multnomah County, Marion County, or one for each county. Additionally, an extensive Pre-Proposal process brought together many of the service providers who had previously only worked with one County or the other and in the process shared their unique experiences that significantly altered the initial solicitation requirements and proved to be of real value to both Counties.

A total of seven proposals were submitted, with four seeking to provide Multnomah County services and three for Marion County services. Two separate evaluation panels, one for each County, made a total of four awards, ensuring each County had two agencies to meet both current and projected service needs. The Counties' found the competitive process not only drove significant changes to the services but also helped keep a check on pricing, giving options to the Counties' that had not previously existed. As the mental health system continues to undergo extensive revision, it is hoped we can continue to join with other government agencies and partners in building a more robust and shared system of care.

Traditionally, trade services like welding have been provided either on a project by project basis or on very limited dollar Public Works Agreements on a requirements or as needed basis. While there is considerable legislative support and history for educational institutions to buy trade services on a requirements basis, there is less support for Governmental Agencies like Multnomah County to do so.

WELDING AND FABRICATION SERVICES

Increasing the Efficiency of Contracting

However, over the years it has become apparent that there is a growing need for a more flexible procurement instrument that would allow a facility manager to instantly bring in a contractor to do trade work in a more efficient and responsive manner, while maintaining the integrity of the procurement process. Nowhere was this more apparent than in County jail facilities, where broken doors and other metal equipment need to be fixed immediately which could present a significant security risk to the both corrections staff and inmates until repaired. Additionally, contractors require facility background checks which can take weeks to obtain. These considerably higher stakes and additional requirements in the jails motivated a team from Facilities and Property Management, the Department of County Management and Central Purchasing to brain storm and design a procurement and contracting arrangement that would eliminate some procurement program complexities and significantly reduce the requirement for a project by project procurement approach.

As a result, the team developed a process that featured a bid process, not for a specific project, but for a wide range of welding, metal fabrication, installation and related services. This program, implemented for a trial period of three years, would include work incidental to ironwork, boilers, plumbing, power equipment and other areas needing metal work at County Correctional Facilities on a time and material basis. This trial process would allow Facility Managers to immediately contact a single Contractor for virtually any kind of metal work that would be required in the Jails, with no delays and a minimum 8 hour response time, 24-hours a day, seven days a week. The Contractor would review the work to be done and then provide an estimate to the Facility Manager for both labor and materials. The Facility Manager could accept the estimate immediately, or could reject it and enter into negotiations regarding the proposed level of effort and costs, or elect to defer the work and obtain competitive quotes or bids through existing competitive processes. This ability to accept, negotiate or defer work helps keep the Contractor's estimates in check – a frequent problem with longer term requirements contracts.

A contract was awarded through a formal, competitive process and a MWESB firm won the contract, with a labor/material bid that was almost a third lower the other two bids received from other vendors. Initial use of the contract by the Facility Manager has been reported to be very successful and has addressed several critical issues experienced prior to the new process.

IT HAS BECOME APPARENT THAT THERE IS A GROWING NEED FOR A MORE FLEXIBLE PROCUREMENT INSTRUMENT THAT WOULD ALLOW A FACILITY MANAGER TO INSTANTLY BRING IN A CONTRACTOR TO DO TRADE WORK IN A MORE EFFICIENT AND RESPONSIVE MANNER, WHILE MAINTAINING THE INTEGRITY OF THE PROCUREMENT PROCESS.

OWNER'S REPRESENTATIVE SERVICES FOR NEW CENTRAL COURTHOUSE

At Long Last, Gathering Momentum

Multnomah County needs a new Central Courthouse – a fact known for years and stated in many reports going back decades. The existing Multnomah County Courthouse has served the region since 1914 primarily as a Circuit Court. During this time, the population of the County has quadrupled. Several court rooms have been added by dividing up the larger court rooms both horizontally and vertically in an attempt to support increased court operations. Relatively few systems within the existing Courthouse have been upgraded. Technology enhancements and logistics improvements for the Courthouse have been extremely difficult due to the restrictions imposed by the existing structure. Seismically, the 100-year old building is not designed to survive even relatively moderate earthquakes, a definite concern in the Northwest.

In the fall of 2013, with support from many quarters including the Governor's Office, Multnomah County took its first major step towards the acquisition of a new courthouse with the release of a Request for Proposals for an Owner's Representative. The Owner's Representative (OR) team provides the necessary planning, financial, technical, and procurement assistance to assist the County in creating a refined Program Document which optimizes the best Courthouse layout, footprint, size and functional configuration for the next 50 years of predictable Courthouse needs and delivery of justice services. This OR team will work on a planning and programming refinement and site selection process followed by an optional procurement, design and construction, and other potential follow-on activities involved in operating a new Central Courthouse for Multnomah County. The resulting contract could be effective through 2034, depending on the decisions made at critical milestones by the County.

Based on recommendations from key advisors, the OR scope of services included the following phases:

Phase 1 – Project Management, Program and Business Case Analysis Review, and Site Planning (9 months)

Optional Phase 2 – Procurement Process/Documents and Management

Optional Phase 3 – Design and Construction Oversight

Optional Phase 4 – Long Term Asset Warranty

Five highly competitive proposals were received and ultimately Day CPM and Shiels, Obletz and Johnsen were invited to follow-on oral evaluations. Day CPM, a local firm, emerged as the highest scoring agency, was offered a contract and is now performing the OR services. With the completion of the first phase, final reports have been delivered and the critical Procurement decisions are now under review and discussion.

PERFORMANCE MEASURES

During the last year, Purchasing staff supported departments to purchase goods and services across a broad range of categories such as construction, health and human services, materials, professional services, and non-professional services.

In fiscal year 2014, the largest percentage of dollars awarded on County contracts was for health and human services and professional services for a combined 70% of total. Construction represented 3%, materials represented 8%, and non-professional services represented 19% of dollars awarded. In comparison, the County awarded 68% of all contract dollars in 2013 to health and human services and professional services. Construction contracts represented 20% while materials and non-professional services were awarded 2% and 9% of dollars awarded respectively.

The charts and tables on the following pages have organized contracts into three main categories:

MWESB and Non-MWESB Awards — These are subdivided into Minority Business Enterprises, Women Business Enterprises, and Emerging Small Businesses (MWESBs) and Non-MWESB.

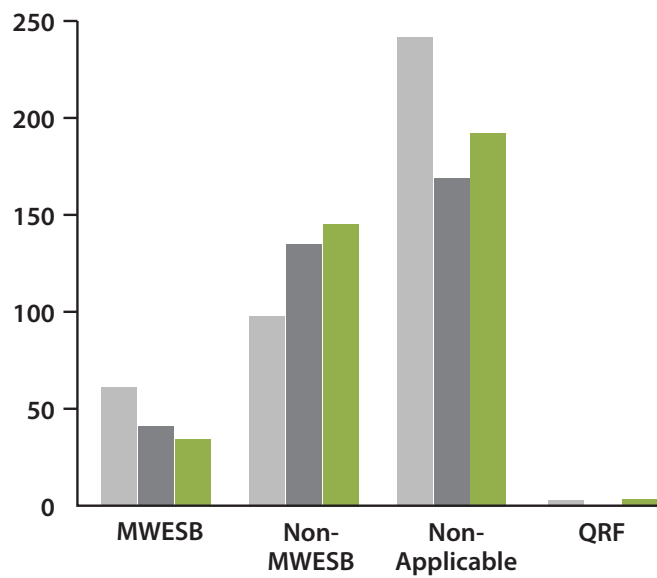

Non-Applicable Awards — Vendors in this category are either ineligible for MWESB certification, or they chose not to apply for that status. They may be government agencies, non-profits, or other non-governmental organizations such as utilities.

QRF Contract Awards — Vendors who are Qualified Rehabilitation Facilities under the State of Oregon Product of Disabled Law (ORS 279.835-279.855).
