Executive Summary

The Multnomah County Health Officer serves as the lead Health Officer for the three-county metro region, providing overall physician supervision and regional alignment to three other full-time health officers, one in each county. In addition to being one of the few regional public health staff, the Health Officer provides executive level oversight to the County's Emergency Medical Services Program, the Medical Examiners Program, the Public Health Emergency Preparedness Program, and routinely serves as the primary physician ambassador to regional health systems and Coordinated Care Organizations particularly in relation to emerging health threats that require a coordinated response.

Program Description

The Multnomah County Health Officers provide physician authorization and clinical oversight for the full scope of Communicable Disease Services, including the Sexually Transmitted Disease Clinic, tuberculosis diagnosis and treatment, and many other types of outbreaks. They close gaps in services, recent examples include COVID-19 testing and vaccination, naloxone availability, and rapid HIV testing. Working in concert with community-based staff and programs, the Multnomah County Health Officers extend the reach of public health interventions to those disproportionately affected by specific health threats. They also offer a unique perspective in the realm of local and state health policy that is prevention-focused and equity-based.

The Washington County contract funds their full-time health officer and a small portion of FTE for the Multnomah County Health Officer to cover supervisory and regional duties.

Total health officer FTE in Multnomah County has not changed in decades despite a growing population and increasing complexity of public health events, including but not limited to: measles, Ebola, extreme cold/heat, poor air quality, and the drug overdose crisis.
