Executive Summary

Tobacco use is the single most preventable cause of disease, disability, and death in Multnomah County. Although cigarette smoking has declined in Multnomah County, disparities in tobacco use remain across groups defined by race, ethnicity, educational level, and socioeconomic status. The Tobacco Control and Prevention Program uses a variety of policy, systems, and environmental change strategies to prevent and reduce tobacco and nicotine use and exposure, and associated chronic disease, with particular attention to reducing tobacco-related racial and ethnic disparities.

Program Description

Tobacco Control and Prevention Program works to prevent and reduce tobacco and nicotine use and exposure in Multnomah County, with particular attention to reducing tobacco-related racial and ethnic disparities. Short-term goals include preventing new and continued use of tobacco products specifically targeted to youth, American Indians/Alaska Natives, African Americans, and LGBTQ communities. The program does this through policy interventions such as restricting the sale of flavored tobacco and nicotine products, including menthol. Program components include: strategies to reduce youth access to, and use of, tobacco and nicotine products; counter-marketing; support and resources for smokers who want to quit; engagement of diverse communities to reduce tobacco-related disparities; surveillance and evaluation; promotion of smoke-free environments; and policy/regulation, including tobacco retail licensing. Tobacco retail licensing includes several activities, including annual compliance inspections, minimum legal sales age inspections, enforcement inspections, surveillance and monitoring, trainings, outreach, and consultation to increase retailer compliance with all laws related to the sale of tobacco and nicotine products.

Utilizing national, state, and county-level data on use and health impacts of tobacco products, programmatic activities are tailored to address racial disparities by creating prevention strategies to reach specific priority populations, ongoing evaluation of tobacco retail regulation, and employing language services to ensure access to all materials and services. Specific priority populations are engaged through partnerships (funded and unfunded) with community-based organizations serving those populations. Licensed tobacco retailers give feedback on the regulatory processes that impact their businesses, and the licensing system is evaluated for any disproportionate enforcement burden. Originally, the licensing system was developed with a diverse rules advisory committee as well as findings from the health equity impact assessment.
