Executive Summary

The Adolescent Sexual Health Equity Program (ASHEP) aims to create a culture that affirms the sexual and reproductive health and justice of youth. ASHEP provides direct evidence-based comprehensive sexual health and relationship education to youth and parents/caregivers, as well as training and capacity building for middle schools, high schools, and community partner agencies. Goals include reducing unintended pregnancy, sexually transmitted infections, teen dating violence; eliminating sexual health disparities; promoting youth development. In FY18, ASHEP will reach over 10,000 youth.

Program Summary

The Adolescent Sexual Health Equity Program (ASHEP) promotes sexual and relationship health through large-scale population-level programming in multiple school districts and community settings. ASHEP uses public health and social determinate data to identify geographic areas and specific populations at highest need for focused resources. ASHEP and its partners are focused on reducing the overall teen unintended pregnancy rate and sexually transmitted infection rates in Multnomah County, especially inequities between demographic groups. Locally, significant inequities in these health outcomes exist among Latinos, Native Americans, and African Americans. LGBTQ youth populations are also disproportionately impacted by sexually transmitted infection when compared to the county as a whole. Both teen pregnancy and sexually transmitted infections can interrupt education and limit future opportunities impacting the long-term fertility and health of youth.

ASHEP partners with youth, educators, caregivers, and service providers in school and community settings. Oregon law requires comprehensive sexuality and healthy relationship skill education for youth. ASHEP plays a key role in supporting schools to meet this goal across 5 county school districts. ASHEP trains and provides evidence-based sexual and relationship health curricula to Middle and High School teachers, and trains school and community coaches to implement teen-dating violence prevention curricula. ASHEP staff evaluate the program while implementing it and adapt/translate curricula to provide effective education to special populations (e.g. English language learners, developmentally disabled). ASHEP Health Educators also reach high-need youth not enrolled in mainstream public schools through alternative high schools, SUN programs, residential treatment, juvenile detention, and other community sites. Together ASHEP staff and community partners work to strengthen community resilience, address inequities, and support culturally-specific and responsive efforts. The capacity of African American, Latino, and Native American communities is increased by training, collaborating, and funding partner organizations to provide culturally-specific skill building, policy advocacy, and community mobilization among both youth and their parents/caring adults.
