Program Description

The Family Involvement Team (FIT) for Recovery program is a collaboration with the Oregon Department of Human Services (DHS) Child Welfare, Substance Use Disorder (SUD) treatment and recovery support providers, social service agencies, and the Multnomah County Family Dependency Court. Each year, the FIT for Recovery program connects over 700 unique parents who have had their parental rights taken away due to substance use issues with treatment and recovery support services, specialized case management services, and peer supports from individuals with lived experience with the Child Welfare system. This connection supports parents in accessing needed services and recovery, which makes family preservation and reunification possible.

The FIT for Recovery Core Team, housed at the Family Dependency Court, works with parents involved with DHS Child Welfare who have a substance use disorder and are in need of treatment and recovery support services. Culturally specific peer support and outreach workers with lived experience meet parents directly at court hearings where parental rights are terminated to provide immediate support at a critical time. These staff work to establish a connection with parents, screen for SUD and other needs, and make referrals to treatment and support services. Warm handoffs ensure individuals have support navigating any access barriers to getting into treatment.

Once in treatment, FIT case managers with lived experience and specialized knowledge of navigating the Child Welfare and family court systems at partnering SUD treatment agencies provide the family with supportive services including case management, family therapy, and family recovery services to assist the parent/family in being successful and in developing a recovery plan. DHS Child Welfare caseworkers assist and collaborate with Case Managers and provide parent skill building, ensuring child visitation and reunification while in treatment. Peer and parent mentors are also available through the FIT collaborative before, during, and after treatment. Parenting Support groups are also provided by peers with lived experience.

Performance Measures Descriptions

1) The FIT program aims to streamline and support DHS Child Welfare clients' access to drug and alcohol treatment and recovery services, with a target of 800 referrals per year. 2) The percentage of Multnomah County/DHS Child Welfare-involved parents referred to alcohol and drug treatment, in order to prevent out of home placement of children and reduce the time children may be in out-of-home placement, and/or to reunite children with parents upon their engagement and transition to a recovery lifestyle.
