Executive Summary

Intake, Assessment, Intervention and Adjudication (IAIA) carries an average daily caseload of 180 youth (12-18). Youth who are at imminent risk of becoming chronic juvenile offenders are identified using validated risk assessment instruments; supervision and services are provided to 300 juvenile offenders annually.

Program Summary

IAIA conducts daily intakes, responds to victim and public inquiries, and administers delinquency risk assessments. IAIA reviews law enforcement reports and facilitates documentation and communication with the District Attorney's Office for charging decisions, provides valuable information and referral services to the public, and facilitates victim services as mandated by Oregon Victims' Rights Law. The District Attorney's Office relies on IAIA to review police reports of divertible misdemeanor and felony cases. Judges rely heavily on IAIA to provide critical information and technical support for daily court docketing and proceedings.

IAIA staff monitor the daily court docket, assist the Juvenile Court with delinquency matters, set court proceedings in motion, and collaborate with Deputy District Attorneys, defense attorneys, State Court Clerk's Office, and Judicial Officers concerning matters of law and court processes including preparation of court reports and recommendations. IAIA staff represent the Juvenile Services Division during these court proceedings.

IAIA administers standardized, comprehensive delinquency risk assessments to identify youth who are at the highest risk to re-offend. Low and medium risk youth age 12 and older are assessed and held accountable via contracts called Formal Accountability Agreements (FAA), instead of being charged, adjudicated and placed on formal probation. FAA conditions may include community service, restitution, apology letter, school attendance and/or treatment services. IAIA youth who do not comply with agreements or who continue to demonstrate unsafe, illegal behavior can be taken to court and placed on formal probation.
