Executive Summary

The Treatment First program is the next generation of diversion court. It builds on the established STOP (Sanction, Treatment, Opportunity, and Progress) model Drug Court and provides outpatient treatment and supervision. Treatment First utilizes validated risk and needs assessment tools, and provides separate tracks for individuals with differing risk and need levels. Adults charged with drug offenses are held accountable while receiving the opportunity for treatment. Those who successfully complete treatment and court requirements have their charges dismissed.

Program Summary

The Treatment First Program is a collaborative effort between DCJ, the courts, the DA's office, the public defender's office, local law enforcement, and community treatment providers. The program involves the use of a validated risk and needs assessment tool and serves a mixed population of low risk/need and moderate to high risk/need individuals. The program provides quadrant levels and separate group treatment services to ensure low risk individuals are not attending group sessions with moderate and high risk individuals and that their specific needs are met. Defendants with low risk and low needs will be assigned to a low supervision track. The Treatment First model reserves the Sanction, Treatment, Opportunity and Progress (STOP) Court for the highest need, highest risk individuals while creating alternative tracks that match program design to individuals' needs and profiles. By creating multiple treatment tracks besides the STOP Court, the county is able to provide an appropriate system response to individuals who are non-addicted and/or low-risk.

DCJ's contribution to the Treatment First program is the Assessment Team, which consists of 4 PPO's who assess all incoming Treatment First drug cases using evidence-based risk assessment tools. These assessments are used to place incoming JII's in the level of supervision that research shows to be the most effective for their level of risk and specific A&D need. The assessment team assess JII's both in and out of custody, and works closely with the Court, DA's Office and Defense Bar during the early Court process. Those placed in the STOP Court are supervised by a total of 3 PPOs.

Sanction, Treatment, Opportunity, and Progress (STOP) serves adults charged with various drug-related offenses. Multnomah County's Drug Court is one of the oldest of its kind that collaborates with criminal justice partners to expedite the court process and offer drug treatment and is one component of the Treatment First Program. The treatment component is facilitated by a contracted agency who works closely with the court to provide mental health and drug treatment, employment resources, housing referrals, mentoring, residential treatment referrals and long-term follow-up services. The STOP Court is also staffed by Probation and Parole Officers who support the court by offering supervision, sanction and services. Participants may attend STOP as frequently as once a week during the first phases of their recovery and as little as one time per month as they stabilize with treatment.
