Executive Summary

The Women & Family Services Unit (WFSU) supervises adults who identify as female. A number of these individuals are pregnant women, parenting young children, and/or have children involved in the juvenile justice system. By collaborating with community partners, including the Juvenile Services Division (JSD), WFSU protects children, strengthens families, and works to break the intergenerational transmission of criminogenic factors.

Program Description

Women & Family Services Unit (WFSU) approaches supervision through a multi-disciplinary collaborative effort and gender responsive programming, which includes Community Health Specialists (CHS), who work closely with staff from Child Welfare, Self Sufficiency, Health Services, the Juvenile Services Division, and mental health agencies for case planning, resource allocation, and efficient service delivery to address dynamics that place an entire family at risk. Utilizing the Women’s Risk Needs Assessment (WRNA), each individual is assessed for their risk and need areas, which allows WFSU staff to match risk and need with appropriate interventions, treatment, and gender responsive service referrals. WFSU’s intensive wraparound approach equips justice-involved women with skills and resources that strengthen families and successfully defrays long-term costs associated with inter-generational criminal activity. FY22, this program served nearly half of Black, Indigenous and/or People of Color (BIPOC) women under supervision.

Embedded within this program, is the House Bill 3503 Family Sentencing Alternative Pilot (FSAP) Program, which diverts qualified adults who have custody of a minor child at the time of the offense or are pregnant at the time of sentencing from prison to probation. WFSU has two staff dedicated to working with the Department of Human Services and clients who are either pregnant, parenting, or attempting to parent their children to maintain or regain parental rights. The intent of this program is to promote reunification of families through wraparound services that focus on phases of parenting (full, partial, or no custody) and to prevent children from entering the foster care system.
