Executive Summary

Juvenile detention alternatives in the form of short-term shelter and residential placements protect the public by safely supervising identified high risk youth in the community. Many of these youth are Black, African American, and Latino/a. By placing these youth in culturally appropriate community settings (short-term shelter care or treatment foster care), fewer youth of color are confined in detention. Juvenile shelter and residential placements additionally save the County money by avoiding more costly detention each year while preserving public safety.

Program Description

Oregon Revised Statute (ORS) 419C.145 defines the circumstances under which a youth may be placed in detention pre-adjudication. A youth having committed a felony crime, accumulated a history of warrants for failure to appear in court, engaged in probation or conditions of release violations, or participated in certain person-to-person misdemeanors such as family violence, is eligible for custody. Further stipulated in this statute are mandates that require these youth to be released to a parent, shelter or other responsible party as long as their release does not endanger the welfare of the community or the youth. While in shelter care, youth attend school, participate in treatment and work with an assigned Juvenile Court Counselor.

Multnomah County serves as a model site, and has long been regarded as a national leader in the Juvenile Detention Alternatives Initiative (JDAI). Shelter care is one of the alternatives to detention that the Juvenile Services Division (JSD) utilizes. Shelter care services offer at-risk youth who would otherwise be placed in costly detention beds an opportunity to remain safely in the community under a high level of structure and supervision by professional shelter care providers. JSD contracts with Boys and Girls Aid and Maple Star Oregon to provide short-term shelter and treatment foster care to pre- and post-adjudicated youth. Services are focused on providing a safe, secure, and supportive environment that assists with behavioral stabilization, strengthens individual and family relationships, uses evidence-based practices (EBP) and strength-based approaches in dealing with the criminogenic needs of the youth, and facilitates the youth's reintegration back to the family and/or community. The majority of youth placed in these shelter programs are Black, African American, or Latino/a. By serving youth of color in culturally appropriate placements (short-term shelter care or treatment foster care), research has shown the disproportionate confinement of youth of color drops significantly and keeps youth connected to their communities without a reduction in public safety.
