Executive Summary

Juvenile Sex Offender Probation Supervision (JSOPS) protects public safety by holding adolescent sex offenders responsible for their actions. JSOPS serves approximately 100 youth, predominantly males 12-18 years of age. They have appeared before a judge or referee and received special court ordered conditions and sanctions pertaining to their sexual offending behavior. The Court orders these youth to be supervised by JSOPS for a duration that often extends into an offender's early 20s.

Program Summary

JSOPS staff supervise adolescent sex offenders with court ordered conditions. Juvenile Court Counselors (JCC) regularly communicate with schools and law enforcement about the status of these offenders. This offer also includes specialized outpatient treatment services for non-court involved children/youth ages 4 – 18 with sexually acting out behaviors.

This program has three primary goals:

- 1) Youth will not commit new sexual offenses or any other crimes;
- 2) Youth will be in school/training and/or be employed; and
- 3) Youth will be actively engaged in appropriate sex offender treatment.

JCCs employ Functional Family Probation Services (FFPS), an evidence-based case management model that has proven results in reducing recidivism among juvenile offenders. JCCs monitor youth at home, in school, in treatment, and in the community. They collect DNA samples and ensure that youth are photographed and fingerprinted for the Oregon State Police Sex Offender Registry. JCCs meet frequently with assigned youth and use polygraph exams to monitor compliance with court orders, safety plans, probation case plans and sex offender treatment. Services are adjusted and sanctions swiftly imposed when a youth fails to follow conditions of supervision. Evidence-based practices show that juvenile sexual offending is most effectively addressed through supervision, treatment and accountability (Association for the Treatment of Sex Abusers, 2002).

Treatment helps clients learn new skills to prevent sexual acting out, addresses existing trauma issues, assists with developing appropriate social skills, and promotes healthy parenting skills. Interrupting sexual offending behaviors through these services prevents the accumulation of more victims and prevents young people from a life-long entanglement in criminal justice systems. Without access to this type of specific programming, many children/youth will not receive the appropriate treatment they need and would therefore, likely enter more restrictive and more expensive treatment settings within secure facilities.
