Executive Summary

Community Healing Initiative (CHI) provides culturally specific, holistic, family-based, wraparound services to medium and high risk Black, African American, African immigrant/refugee, and Latino/a youth, and their families. CHI is a family and community centered collaboration designed to stop youth and gang violence in Multnomah County by addressing its root causes.

Program Description

This collaborative paradigm between the Department of Community Justice (DCJ) and community-based providers is a joint system responsibility that entails shared financial resources and investments, shared system outcomes, and shared risk. CHI applies supervision, intervention, and prevention strategies to youth and families who have recent involvement with high-risk activities and behaviors relevant to violence/gun violence. Within CHI, each family receives a comprehensive assessment and individualized family service plan. Services are tailored to meet a family's individual needs and integrated in a manner that reduces and prevents gang/group violence and gun violence. The majority of youth served by CHI are on probation to the Juvenile Court, though 20% of referrals can come from the community.

A network of public safety and social service agencies, and community-based organizations known as the Youth, Family and Community Team build service capacity, promote integrated case management, increase connection to ethnic communities in the metropolitan area, and augment community safety. The team focuses on sustainability through fostering family and community ownership and empowerment. Team services are evidence-based, culturally specific, and family oriented. The family service plans address criminogenic needs that most closely link with recidivism and youth violence. In addition, CHI youth and parents receive culturally specific mentoring services from mentors with lived experience.

The goals of CHI are to prevent youth of color from committing new crimes and penetrating further into the justice system. Culturally competent, strength-based programs that are delivered in homes, schools, and the community are shown to be most effective with disenfranchised youth. CHI has a proven track record of preventing unnecessary and expensive placement in residential programs and confinement in correctional facilities.
