

GREETINGS FROM

Multnomah County

A MESSAGE FROM
Multnomah County Chair Deborah Kafoury

Every day, Multnomah County's dedicated employees and partners work to make our community safer, our kids healthier and our neighbors more secure.

We have a lot of work to do together. More than a third of Multnomah County families struggle to meet their basic needs.

For more and more people, we are the safety net.

We help people in a mental health crisis receive treatment and recover. We help seniors stay in their homes and people with disabilities find jobs they love. We stand with survivors of domestic violence. We house homeless families, help students get the immunizations they need to stay in school and help young people find their first jobs.

We also coordinate this community's response to emergencies, maintain the county's roads and bridges, administer the community corrections system and operate the jails. We invest in, and partner with, dozens of non-profit partners, who bring their passion, compassion and expertise to our shared work.

Our commitment is to making Multnomah County an inclusive place to live, and one that is more fair and more just to everyone. We're here to help, so contact us if you have any questions or concerns.

Know how your county commission can help you

Making a change in your community, especially at a government level, may seem difficult. But with some work and knowledge of the process, you can effectively and efficiently make a positive change for your community. Here's how:

1. Talk to an elected official

See an issue in your community?
Have an idea about how to fix it?
Contact your commissioner's office or the Chair's Office. We can help bring awareness to the issue and make change.

2. We can help brighten your idea

Ideas need input to make them the best they can be. You can count on your elected official to help decide if the idea is appropriate to bring to the Board of County Commissioners. If yes, you'll work with staff, community members and outside experts.

3. Present to the commissioners

Next, your elected official will invite you and other engaged members of the community to present your idea at the regular weekly board meeting. The meetings are held on Thursdays at 9:30 a.m. The commission will listen to the presentation and actively discuss and then vote on your idea.

4. Success can be the result!

With a minimum of three votes in favor from the commission, it's approved and you're done!

You've officially helped make a positive change in your community.

Not a county issue?

We want you to be successful. By law, the county commission has jurisdiction over select issues. If we can't help you, we'll find someone who can. Contact your Chair or commissioner and help make a change today.

Regular Board Meetings:
Weekly on Thursdays at 9:30 a.m.

In the Multnomah Building Boardroom, 501 SE Hawthorne Blvd.

If you would like to find out how your commission can help you get your idea moving, please contact your commissioner or the Chair's Office.

To volunteer at the county or to join a public advisory committee, board or council, contact the Office of Community Involvement at 503-988-3450 or visit multco.us/oci.
