Program Characteristics:

Program Description

Summary: North and Northeast County libraries (Albina, Hollywood, Kenton, North Portland, and St. Johns) provide information services and staff support seven days a week, offering collections, space to gather, publicly accessible computers, public wi-fi, and support for programming and events. These libraries embody Multnomah County Library values by providing equitable and inclusive spaces and services, including culturally relevant outreach to Black, Indigenous, LGBTQIA+, and Spanish-speaking users.

Program activity: Core activities focus on identified needs such as technology access and assistance, collection access, information access, and material pickup. Services are culturally and language-specific, including storytimes, youth literacy, and adult classes (ESL, citizenship, computer use, and technology training).

North and Northeast County libraries' language and educational programs improve employment and quality of life for those with low English proficiency and limited resources. Staff prioritize critical life skill development and digital literacy through services like technology access, one-on-one tech help, job search assistance, literacy resources, and classes for youth and adults.

By the end of FY 2027, all North and Northeast County locations will be open and will have been refreshed, renovated, or newly constructed.

Equity Statement

This Library program commits to dismantling systemic inequities through open, barrier-free access and equitable service delivery at all locations. The Library allocates resources and designs services to serve all community members, especially those who have been historically marginalized.
