Eric Has The Experience We Need

Eric was born and bred in the Portland area, the son of a Portland teacher. He signed up to serve our nation as an officer, leading soldiers during the Iraq war. Eric earned the Bronze Star Medal for his service in Iraq. Once home, he returned to work for the County – helping co-found a group to help veteran employees. He then joined a county commissioner’s staff, working on affordable housing, anti-human trafficking, economic and infrastructure development, and mental health. Eric is the candidate in the race ready to serve effectively on Day 1.

Eric Will Look Out For Our Community

Eric will stand up for us, working to create affordable housing and control rising rents. He is committed to helping the homeless living on our streets. As an outspoken member of the LGBTQ community, he is deeply committed to ensuring equality, justice, and access for all people in Multnomah County.

Eric Will Help Grow Our Economy

Eric understands what it takes to create jobs, having worked at the County to help bring new businesses to the region and invest in our local workforce. Eric will push for smart County policies that support workers and local small businesses.

That is why people like us across this community are supporting Eric!
