I Will Build A City That's Safe, Healthy, and Welcoming for All

As a city resident for 11 years, and a mother who has sent her three kids to local schools, I am passionate about Fairview. I like my friendly neighbors, the parks and natural areas, the small-town feel, and the racial and economic diversity.

But I'm worried about our community. Theft, speeding, and vandalism have increased. Families are struggling financially – and so is our city. Mental health issues, drug addiction, and homeless are increasingly visible.

We need elected leaders who will take these problems head-on, and ensure Fairview is safe, healthy, and welcoming to everyone. If you vote for me, I will:

- Improve public safety by working with the community to find solutions, then find sustainable sources of funding to reduce crime and increase disaster preparedness
- Forge stronger relationships with all residents to bring new perspectives to policy decisions and increase citizen engagement and trust
- Build a sustainable city budget that meets our basic needs
- Create a multi-generational and multicultural community to ensure services and communications are equitable and inclusive

Listening, gathering facts, and working collaboratively and creatively is how I lead. As your city councilor, I promise I will ask for public input, invite public participation, and advocate for public services that meet the needs of as many residents and businesses as possible. Everyone in Fairview deserves a voice – and meaningful participation in city decisions.
