Getting Us Out of a Jam

The Future of Congestion Pricing in the Portland Metro Area

What you've heard is true: Tolling is coming to I-5 and I-205. This fall—come learn about the available options and help shape a transportation system that serves all of us.

Travelers need to get around greater Portland – and our transportation infrastructure isn't keeping up. The Oregon Department of Transportation Urban Mobility Office is focused on finding solutions to managing congestion in a way that is equitable and addresses climate change while providing needed funding for critical infrastructure and safety improvements. Get engaged in the Regional Mobility Pricing Project at a virtual workshop.

What: Workshops on draft concepts and policy options for congestion pricing on I-5 and I-205. These workshops will inform planning decisions by ODOT.

Who: YOU and invited elected officials, business and community leaders, and key agency staff. Workshops will be open to the public to listen.

When: We are offering two opportunities to participate. You are welcome to pick the virtual workshop that best fits your schedule.

- Workshop Option 1: November 9, 9am-12pm
- Workshop Option 2: November 10, 3-6pm

How to Register:

Contact oregontolling@odot.state.or.us for more information and to register for the workshops.
