Advocating for Student Needs, Fueled by Experience

"Amanda is someone we can all depend on to stand up for our children and strong enough to do what is right."

Mario Palmero, Gresham City Councilor

Gresham's population is growing, and new, young families are moving to our city. Amanda recognizes this diverse growth as an opportunity to build a stronger more vibrant community.

Amanda will advocate for student's rights and needs, by working with faculty, staff, and families to make sure that they are getting the resources that they need to better their services for K-12 students.

Amanda knows Gresham can be the envy of Oregon, including having the best schools in the state. She will fight tirelessly and passionately to make sure that students, staff and families succeed in Gresham-Barlow Schools.

As your school board member Amanda will work to:

- Ensure student success and safety
- Listen to, and support all families
- Increase graduation rates and promote college and career school readiness.
- Get additional support for mental health and counseling
- Fight for educators to get the funding and tools they need to better care for, and teach our children
