Re: Investment Portfolio Results for June 2025

The County Investment Pool's annualized earnings rate for June was 3.88%. This was a one basis point increase from the previous month's return of 3.87%. The year-to-date rate of return for Fiscal Year 2025 is 3.85%.

The U.S. Treasury 90-day T-Bill yield at the end of June was 4.41%. A five basis point increase from the end of May.

The current yield for the State's Local Government Investment Pool is 4.60%.

Total nonfarm payroll employment increased by 147k jobs in June, above the 110k consensus forecast. The unemployment rate fell to 4.1%. June CPI showed a 2.7% increase in inflation, a rise from the 2.4% increase seen in May. The Federal Reserve is taking a "wait and see" approach to rate cuts and will likely hold steady this month, with a September rate cut looking more likely.

Month End Commentary - June 2025

Financial markets heated up in June as stocks posted another month of solid gains while fixed income markets rallied. Equities, as measured by the S&P 500 index, staged a 5% advance during the month, reaching record highs along the way. The yield curve shifted lower in a near-parallel fashion with 2-year Treasury notes declining by 22 basis points to 3.72% while 10-year Treasury notes declined by 21 basis points to 4.23%.

Pricing action during the month was driven by a variety of influencing factors including ongoing trade and fiscal policy developments, fresh economic data and more recently, the now deescalating geopolitical tensions in the Middle East. Surprisingly, the Israeli-Iranian conflict did not exert as much market stress as one might have expected with both bond and equity markets discounting the potential for a wider, longer lasting conflict. Oil was the one asset that surged during the skirmish as brent crude jumped nearly 20% before plummeting back to $67 per barrel by the end of the month.

Data released in June show a US economy that is slowing but nowhere near falling off a cliff. The labor market remains healthy adding a robust 147 thousand workers to payrolls in June, and fortunately, we have not observed a resurgence in price growth that risks thwarting the Fed's effort to restore price stability – at least not yet. The Fed preferred PCE inflation gauge advanced by a yearly 2.3% in May while the core reading, which excludes volatile food and energy prices advanced by 2.7%. And while these figures mark a 0.1% acceleration from April, the monthly readings were tame and the 3-month annualized rate for the core PCE deflator is running at a below target 1.6%. It may seem like mission accomplished but that would be premature in the eyes of the Fed. The FOMC has remained cautious and is forecasting inflation to move higher in the coming months as the impact of newly implemented tariffs flow through to businesses and consumers.

The economy has steadily created new jobs at a decent clip in 2025 despite, as the Fed would put it, moderately restrictive interest rates. However, the labor market has slowed since the economy reopened from pandemic lockdowns and is now generating jobs at a lower 12-month average than in 2019 – before the onset of the pandemic. The Fed has been patient in continuing to ease policy with the labor market remaining buoyant, but that could change quickly as they do not wish to see much further moderation in job growth leaving them on course to lower the fed funds rate at their September meeting. With that, we advise our clients to manage portfolio durations neutral to slightly overweight to strategic targets in anticipation of lower rates headed into 2026.

This report is for general informational purposes only and is not intended to provide specific advice or recommendations. Government Portfolio Advisors (GPA) is an investment advisor registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission and is required to maintain a written disclosure statement of our background and business experience.

Questions About an Account: GPA's monthly & quarterly reports are intended to detail the investment advisory activity managed by GPA. The custodial bank maintains the control of assets and settles all investment transactions. The custodial statement is the official record of security and cash holdings and transactions. GPA recognizes that clients may use these reports to facilitate record keeping and that the custodial bank statement and the GPA report should be reconciled, and differences documented.

Trade Date versus Settlement Date: Many custodial banks use settlement date basis and post coupons or maturities on the following business days when they occur on weekend. These items may result in the need to reconcile due to a timing difference. GPA reports are on a trade date basis in accordance with GIPS performance standards. GPA can provide all account settings to support the reason for any variance.

Bank Deposits and Pooled Investment Funds Held in Liquidity Accounts Away from the Custodial Bank are Referred to as Line Item Securities: GPA relies on the information provided by clients when reporting pool balances, bank balances and other assets that are not held at the client's custodial bank. GPA does not guarantee the accuracy of information received from third parties. Balances cannot be adjusted once submitted however corrective transactions can be entered as adjustments in the following months activity. Assets held outside the custodial bank that are reported to GPA are included in GPA's oversight compliance reporting and strategic plan.

Account Control: GPA does not have the authority to withdraw or deposit funds from or to any client's custodial account. Clients retain responsibility for the deposit and withdrawal of funds to the custodial account. Our clients retain responsibility for their internal accounting policies, implementing and enforcing internal controls and generating ledger entries or otherwise recording transactions.

Custodial Bank Interface: Our contract provides for the ability for GPA to interface into our client's custodial bank to reconcile transactions, maturities and coupon payments. The GPA client portal will be available to all clients to access this information directly at any time.

Market Price: Generally, GPA has set all securities market pricing to match custodial bank pricing. There may be certain securities that will require pricing override due to inaccurate custodial bank pricing that will otherwise distort portfolio performance returns. GPA may utilize Refinitiv pricing source for commercial paper, discount notes and supranational bonds when custodial bank pricing does not reflect current market levels. The pricing variances are obvious when market yields are distorted from the current market levels.

Performance Calculation: Historical returns are presented as time-weighted total return values and are presented gross and net of fees.

Amortized Cost: The original cost on the principal of the security is adjusted for the amount of the periodic reduction of any discount or premium from the purchase date until the date of the report. Discounts or premiums are amortized on a straight-line basis on all securities. This can be changed at the client's request.

Callable Securities: Securities subject to redemption in whole or in part prior to the stated final maturity at the discretion of the security's issuer are referred to as "callable". Certain call dates may not show up on the report if the call date has passed or if the security is continuously callable until maturity date. Bonds purchased at a premium will be amortized to the next call date while all other callable securities will be amortized to maturity. If the bond is amortized to the call date, amortization will be reflected to that date and once the call date passes, the bond will be fully amortized.
