

Multnomah County Justice Fellowship

NOW LAUNCHING COHORT 3 | SHAPING EQUITY THROUGH LIVED EXPERIENCE

Program Duration	Target Audience	Core Focus
4-Month Cohort	Justice-Impacted Individuals	Leadership & Civic Engagement

About the Program

This four-month cohort program brings community members directly impacted by the criminal legal system into weekly sessions covering local reform efforts, policy analysis, and advocacy—as well as deep dives into first response, policing, prosecution, defense, the courts, and community corrections. Designed for emerging leaders and established professionals alike, the fellowship offers a unique space to connect with county officials, expand your professional network, and sharpen your advocacy skills. By combining your real-world expertise with an insider’s view of local systems, you will be prepared to help refine public safety policies and shape a fairer, more accountable system.

Our Goals

- Build Future Leaders: Open avenues for impacted community members engage with county leadership, participate in advisory boards, and participate at policy-making tables.
- Dismantle Stigma: Shift public perception around past convictions and clear away systemic barriers to full community integration.
- Drive Lasting Change: Ground public safety and justice reforms in real-world expertise to build a restorative model other communities can follow.
