Rebecca Yeaman, Candidate Multnomah Education Service District Director, Zone 2 At-large

Occupation

I work as a web and database developer for small to medium size businesses and non-profit organizations.

Occupation Background

My work as an employee and consultant with county offices of education gives me a unique insight and experience to the needs of school districts served by the county office. I understand budgets and challenges faced by schools, and their district offices from hands-on experience. I have also served on two boards as a director and have a clear understanding of a board member's limits and duties.

Educational Background

College classes for technology and computer science.

Prior Governmental Experience

I have worked with Multnomah County as a citizen volunteer, as part of a task force, and have testified before the City Council to gain funding for community services.

Candidate statement - if this needs to go under Occupation Background please feel free to move it to the relevant location.

My past experience working in, and with county offices of education gives me a unique insight and experience to the needs of school districts served by the county office. I understand budgets and challenges faced by schools, and their district offices from hands-on experience. While I am an advocate for technology, reading is one of the single biggest indicators for student success, and understanding the world in and beyond our communities. I am very interested in protecting libraries, librarians and preventing book bans in school libraries. It is a parents right to oversee which books their child reads, however, other children or teens should not be limited by one family's beliefs or values. I support funding teachers, schools and libraries in schools. I support teachers and recognize the effort they put into educating our children. I hope to serve our community education district in these challenging times.
