Occupation: Administrative Law Judge

Occupational Background: Lawyer; Volunteer; Community Board Leader

Community Experience: President, Goose Hollow Neighborhood; Vice-Chair, NAACP PAC; Regional Vice President, IFPTE (AFL-CIO)

Let me be blunt: Too many of our local systems are broken.

People in our community can't count on a quick response from first responders. We've funded first-rate mental health and addiction services, but too few people actually get services. Unsheltered homelessness has reached emergency levels, and it's gone on far too long.

As an experienced public servant and administrative law judge, I can make these systems finally work for our community.

I've volunteered thousands of hours with citizens' committees in our city. I've always been a collaborative problem solver that brings people together for practical, commonsense solutions.

"Vadim has the experience and sense of urgency we need on the Multnomah County Commission." ~Maria Rojo de Steffey, former District 1 County Commissioner.

We must make faster progress to end homelessness.

Unsheltered homeless people need access to services to deal with poverty, addiction, and mental health challenges. We must rapidly expand temporary shelter and dedicated camping sites and ban camping everywhere else.

When you call 911, you expect a fast response. The county must move immediately to fix the ambulance crisis.
