Formatted Statement

I am a listener and an experienced coach that helps people find solutions to their toughest challenges. I will use the power of collaboration and shared leadership to solve the complex problems our city faces.

Portland is unaffordable AND we are faced with a mental health and addiction crisis. I have a plan to move toward a more flourishing future.

I will stand strong for:

- * Economic recovery for our city by securing living wage jobs that reflect the city's creative, unique and sustainable reputation.
- * Sustained investment in safe, shared common spaces like parks, trails, natural areas and business districts.
- * Unified city government by developing shared goals for our limited resources, taking action to support those goals and consistently reporting back to rebuild trust with my constituents.

I support Jayne. She knows how the city works and will work collaboratively to get things done.

Amanda Fritz, Former Portland City Commissioner

Jayne helped build the collaborative public private partnership foundation for the Backyard Habitat Certification Program while serving as Executive Director of the Three Rivers Land Conservancy.

Terri Preeg Riggsby, West Multnomah Soil & Water Conservation District Board Chair

Jayne is adept at working through complex problems to find solutions and leads with her values.

Sue Marshall, Clark County Council Chair

Jayne's steady inclusive presence during COVID sustained a strong social fabric for our school community during a very isolating time.

Amy Beacom Ed.D, founder Center for Parental Leave Leadership

Jayne inspires people to find unseen resources to reach community goals.
