Equity, Transparency, and Literacy for a Stronger School System

Portland's students are full of promise—but systemic barriers still impact their success. Literacy isn't just an academic goal—it's a matter of justice. Too many students, especially those of color and from low-income families, are not reading at grade level. We must act with proven, evidence-based strategies to close these gaps and give every child the foundation they deserve.

We need shared academic accountability. Schools, families, and policymakers must set high expectations, provide targeted support, and measure progress fairly and transparently. That same commitment to transparency must guide the school modernization process. Taxpayer dollars must be accounted for, and the community must have a voice in how we invest in learning environments.

Priorities for Portland Public Schools:

- Improve Literacy Outcomes – prioritize early intervention and effective instruction.
- Increase Transparency in School Modernization – center community voices in decision-making.
- Address HVAC Failures – ensure safe, healthy learning environments in elementary and middle schools.
- Strengthen Academic Accountability – support all students in reaching high standards.

My life's work has focused on mentorship, restorative justice, and youth development. I've seen the power of education to transform lives. Leadership means listening, collaborating, and taking bold action.

I ask for your vote—to lead with compassion, courage, and urgency.

"Herman Greene brings the skills, experience, and perspective we need to help our children grow and reach their full potential. As our children grow and thrive, so does Oregon's future."
