

BEFORE THE BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS FOR MULTNOMAH COUNTY, OREGON

PROCLAMATION NO. 33

Proclaiming October 13, 2025 as Indigenous Peoples' Day in Multnomah County, Oregon

Multnomah County Finds:

- A. The Native American, Alaskan Native and Indigenous heritage of Turtle Island, or what we now call the United States extends since time immemorial and is a vital influence in our country's prosperity.
- B. The United States rests on the ancestral territory of the Indigenous Tribal Nations of this region and their homelands and villages with the stolen labor of our African siblings; and we acknowledge the multi-generational loss of life, loss of land, loss of water and waterways, loss of language, loss of children, and loss of culture due to the historical and ongoing colonization of this land that perpetuate the current structural barriers that impact the Native quality of life.
- C. Our name, "Multnomah," is derived from the Multnomah who are a band of the Chookan people and we conduct daily business on Indigenous soil. We recognize that we are occupants, guests, and stewards of this land, originally cared for by bands of the Confederated Tribes of Grand Ronde.
- D. Indigenous Peoples and Nations have lived here since time immemorial with their own knowledge, languages, relations with the environment, advocacy, science, philosophy, arts and culture. Their historical and present-day contributions, relationships, history, and advocacy continue to shape the character of our region.
- E. Recognizing that we were not the first caretakers of this land and that generations of Native American people called, and continue to call, this place home, is essential to where we need to begin as a County and community. If we are intentional about equity and inclusion, being sincere in our words and actions will consistently result in respect for Native American people coming first.
- F. We are still here. Indigenous Peoples' Day is an opportunity to acknowledge and celebrate the thriving traditions and deeply rooted values of the Indigenous Peoples who reside in Multnomah County and their ancestors before them.
- G. By honoring and celebrating our region's and global first peoples, we are reclaiming a piece of history and ancestral wisdom, and choosing to no longer observe a time of genocide.

- H. Recognizing and honoring the contributions to our society from Indigenous People Groups from all across the globe including North, Central, and South America, Pacific Islands and South Asian communities, and Tribal Nations on every continent.

Multnomah County Proclaims:

October 13th, 2025 as Indigenous Peoples' Day in Multnomah County, Oregon, to honor and celebrate the many contributions made by the Indigenous peoples throughout our local and global vibrant community. We encourage other businesses, organizations, public institutions and community members to recognize Indigenous Peoples' Day, and to take time to learn and teach others around the history and cultural significance of our county and Indigenous community.
