Optional Information

Conservation Districts have the important task of helping to protect our regions' natural resources. In my association with West Multnomah Soil and Water Conservation District I have seen the incredible work the District does to help owners of properties both small and large enhance the health of their land. Improving water and soil quality creates a ripple effect, helping to establish healthier habitats for pollinators and other wildlife. I am proud to be associated with WMSWCD and look forward to doing my part to support their mission.
