

WHAT WORKS

Thursday, January 16, 2020
White Stag Building
Portland, Oregon

Agenda

8:30 a.m. Registration and morning refreshments

Section I: Session Opening

9:00 a.m. Welcome and Opening Remarks
Chair Deborah Kafoury, Multnomah County

9:10 a.m. Introductions, Goal Setting, Agenda Overview
Abbey Stamp, Multnomah County LPSCC Executive Director

9:30 a.m. If it is to be, it is up to me
Kimberly Dixon, Adjunct Professor, PCC, and Executive Life Coach

10:00 a.m. Break

Section II: Victim vs. Offender Dichotomy

Purpose: Frame the Problem

10:15 a.m. Reentry, Health, and Trauma: Justice Beyond the Victim-Offender Dichotomy
Bruce Western, Bryce Professor of Sociology and Social Justice and Co-Director of the Justice Lab at Columbia University

10:45 a.m. Questions and facilitated discussion

11:30 - 12:30 Lunch

Section III: Helping Victims of Crime is A Public Safety Strategy

Purpose: Frame the Opportunity

- 12:30 p.m. Understanding Survivors Behind Bars:
Breaking Down the Victim Offender Dichotomy
Mai Fernandez, Executive Director of the National Center for Victims of Crime
- 1:00 p.m. Using the Sequential Intercept Model to Enhance Criminal Justice Reform
Travis Parker, Program Area Director, Policy Research Associates
- 1:30 p.m. Discussion and questions
- 2:00 p.m. Break

Section IV: What Works to Rethink the Dichotomy

Purpose: Identify solutions, next steps

- 2:15 p.m. The Way Forward: Addressing Harm Through Healing and Accountability
Sonya Shah, Founding Director, The Ahimsa Collective
- 2:45 p.m. Discussion and questions

Section V: Next Steps and Closing

- 3:00 p.m. Closing
Chair Deborah Kafoury, Multnomah County
- 3:10 p.m. Next Steps
Abbey Stamp, Multnomah County LPSCC Executive Director
- 3:30 p.m. Reception