Serving on the Wood Village City Council for the past four years has been a true honor. During this time, we've made great strides in strengthening our community by investing in our city park, establishing an opportunity scholarship for those pursuing further education, and recognizing individuals and organizations through the Community Member of the Year Award. These efforts celebrate those who work tirelessly to improve the lives of everyone who calls Wood Village home.

However, there is still important work ahead. We need to focus on addressing homelessness, enhancing public safety with a focus on fire services and violence prevention, and expanding our parks and recreation services.

I'm running for re-election to continue building a strong, vibrant community where every resident can thrive.

As a councilor, I am committed to listening to your concerns and ensuring that Wood Village grows in a way that benefits all of us.

I believe in our city's future and have full confidence that by working together, we will make Wood Village an even more welcoming and resilient place for everyone.
